

The most ambitious people in the world read The Wall Street Journal, winner of 37 Pulitzer Prizes for outstanding journalism. Journal readers are the leaders of today and tomorrow's rising stars. In recognition of this, The Wall Street Journal hosts a select number of exclusive invitation-only conferences each year, that bring together the world's most influential leaders from industry, finance, government and policy.

"I received a PhD in AI from Gary Kasparov in the morning and an MBA in sports from Alex Rodriguez in the afternoon." Jeremy Balkin, HSBC Head of Innovation

"Overall brilliant show with great interviews. Great to have insight into the minds of those who have succeeded in their business." Conference Attendee

Share videos from these events and inspire your colleagues

Executive Interviews has partnered with this incredible organisation precisely to help you experience these inspiring and educational events. We can now provide your company with a virtual seat at any of their gatherings including The Future of Everything Festival, which is seen as a go-to platform for future-forward content.

You and your stakeholders can view and share any or all of the speeches and discussions created by the brilliant minds at these events, guided and curated by The Wall Street Journal.

This content is available as HD video clips which you can use on your own learning and communications platforms and therefore ensure your teams and colleagues benefit from viewing and sharing thought provoking content.
